Another great year of programming set for Canada's Farm Show

FROM CANADA'S FARM SHOW REGINA, SK

Make AgTech Your Field of Focus. That's the theme for this year's Canada's Farm Show Regina, SK (CFS), Canada's premier dryland farming event of the year, set to showcase the latest in technology for farmers and agricultural enthusiasts from around the world. Presented by Viterro from June 18 to 20 at the REAL District in Regina, the future of AgTech will be on full display at this year's event.

Canada's Farm Show, Regina SK connects farmers, developers, industry professionals, and exhibitors to discover the latest advancements in agriculture technology while also highlighting new products and cutting-edge technology that could revolutionize farming practices.

As one of North America's largest and most important agricultural shows, it's set to showcase the latest equipment and technology. It's a great opportunity to market products to a global audience and learn about the latest advancements in agriculture from industry leaders.

More than 20,000 people are expected to attend this year's show, with producers and international buyers from more than 50 countries. Visitors will be able to see and experience the latest in equipment and emerging technologies from some of the country's largest ag manufacturers.

Other highlights include:

- Cultivator's 24-hour Start Up, bringing together the best and brightest in agriculture to pitch ideas, form teams and build a product in just 24 hours.
- The Innovation Awards are also back, recognizing companies who are bringing the newest ideas and advancements to the forefront of our agriculture industry.
- Cultivator's Global AgTech Summit on the Launch Pad stage, connecting farmers, founders and funders.
- Launch Your Career in Ag event. Presented in partnership with the Agricultural Manufacturers of Canada, it's an exciting opportunity for potential employers to connect with job seekers.

Ag in the Classroom will offer an invigorating and thought-provoking educational experience, providing a learning forum for educators and students to come together with industry professionals.

The International Business Centre (IBC) will be the place to connect visitors with local companies who are promoting the latest in agricultural innovation. The IBC also provides a wide array of business services, including assistance with meetings and introductions, private meeting rooms and accommodations. Over 300 international visitors are expected to attend.

Canada's Farm Show Regina, SK is the premier agricultural event, bringing farmers and industry experts from across Canada and around the world to explore cutting-edge technologies, share best practices, and tackle the challenges and opportunities that lie ahead in the ever-evolving world of agriculture.
