From the desk of the CEO

By Tony Playter
CEO, Regina & District Chamber of Commerce

As I proudly enter into my third year as CEO of the Regina & District Chamber of Commerce, I would like to take a moment share our ongoing commitment to you and your business.

Over the past two years, our dedicated team has worked tirelessly to champion your interests and work to drive our mission of Business First forward. I am immensely pleased of the strides we have made together.

Our focus remains firmly on placing Business First, and we are dedicated to continually enhancing the value we provide to our members.

We have been actively engaging with members through our informative newsletters, conversations at events and from the data you provide us in our surveys. We also added our new podcast, Chamber Chat, that highlights Regina's great community and business leaders.

These communication platforms were designed to keep you updated, informed, and connected with the latest developments and opportunities in our business community.

Innovation is at the heart of our approach. The current Board of Directors has provided me with strategic direction to focus on business first. Our team has creatively revitalized our events and introduced fresh networking opportunities that cater to diverse interests.

We understand that networking in-person has returned, and we want to provide new options for fun and relationship building. From Glow Bowling and Wine Not Wednesday to Beer-aucracy, we are committed to fostering meaningful connections and providing enjoyable experiences that benefit both your personal and business growth. If you have an awesome idea for a networking event, please share it with us.

Looking ahead, as we approach both provincial and municipal elections, we are honoured to be the voice of Regina and area businesses. We understand the critical role that elected officials play in shaping our local business landscape, and we are dedicated to ensuring that your perspectives and needs are represented and more importantly heard. We will be reaching out to gather your insights on the key actions our political leaders should take to support and advance business in Regina and Saskatchewan.

Thank you for your continued support of the Regina & District Chamber of Commerce. We are here to serve you and to play a meaningful role that contributes to the vibrant growth of business in our community.

Have a great Regina Day!

City seeks input on Neighbourhood Plan Review

The City of Regina is inviting residents and stakeholders to provide feedback on the next phase of the Expanding Citywide Housing Options project. Currently, the City has 20 approved Neighbourhood Plans, many of which are outdated and inconsistent, limiting the ability to offer diverse housing options across Regina.

This review follows recent changes to the City's Zoning Bylaw and Official Community Plan, resulting from its application to the federal Housing Accelerator Fund (HAF) program. These changes will allow more housing options in established neighbourhoods and increase housing density near main transit routes.

These changes mark a transition towards a citywide planning approach that better supports growth and the development of housing, services, and amenities in all Regina neighbourhoods.

Information on Area Specific Neighbourhood Plan reviews and draft recommendations are posted at Regina.ca/housingoptions. Residents and stakeholders are welcomed to provide feedback from now until August 23, 2024.

Feedback gathered will inform recommendations presented to the Regina Planning Commission and City Council in September 2024.
