

Tourism Regina launches updated online events calendar

Tourism Regina launched its newly updated online calendar of events on Aug. 19. The user-friendly tool is designed to help both visitors and locals explore all that Regina has to offer.

"Whether you're planning a visit to the city or looking for something fun to do this weekend, our updated calendar is your go-to source for discovering the city," says Jennifer Johnson, Deputy City Manager for Communications, Service Regina and Tourism. "By pulling all the events together into one master calendar it really shows just how many things are happening at any given time in Regina."

The updated calendar offers a dynamic gateway to Regina's thriving cultural scene, with events that cater to every interest to plan the perfect visit with just a few clicks.

The calendar also offers an effortless way for local event organizers to share their events by submitting events online.

To make staying informed even more convenient, Tourism Regina's online calendar of events is accessible from desktops or mobile devices, and on an interactive screen at Regina International Airport.

Stay connected to Regina events through Tourism Regina's new e-newsletter. Subscribers will receive insider tips on must-see attractions, exclusive updates on upcoming events and festivals, and special offers and discounts on accommodations, dining, and activities.

Residents can subscribe at tourismregina.com/sign-up.

CCOC issues statement on rail stoppage

The Honourable Perrin Beatty, PC, OC, President and Chief Executive Officer, Canadian Chamber of Commerce (CCOC), released the following statement on Thursday morning regarding the Canadian rail stoppage:

Canadian Chamber of Commerce

Chambre de
Commerce
du Canada

"The Government of Canada had the opportunity to prevent an unprecedented shutdown of our Canadian freight rail network and some commuter services in major cities. Unfortunately, it did not act.

Canadians are already contending with a high cost of living. They need to see decisive leadership from government that puts their families and livelihoods first.

The Minister of Labour must use the tools at his disposal to immediately resolve this conflict through binding arbitration."

Beer-Aucracy returning on September 4

BEER-AUCRACY: Noun; a system of beer drinking where important decisions are made by everyone in attendance

Following in the successful footsteps of the initial Beer-Aucracy event on April 24, this networking event is returning on Wednesday, September 4.

Come join us in an informal setting for a night of food and drink with fellow Chamber members at The Artesian.

Guest speaker for the event is Carla Beck, leader of the Saskatchewan NDP,

Following an address touching on the topics of the day, she will participate in a Q&A session with those in attendance.

Tickets for the event, which will run from 5 p.m. until 7 p.m., can be purchased HERE.

Walk A Mile In Their Shoes set for Sept. 19

The YWCA Regina is holding its Walk A Mile In Their Shoes event on Thursday, September 19 at the kikaskihtânaw Centre.

The event is a community-focused fundraiser where supporters are asked to step up to raise awareness on gender-based violence, with the added challenge of taking a walk in red shoes, a visual symbol to show support for those who have experienced violence.

It is a light-hearted way for our walkers to challenge themselves to learn about the impact of intimate partner violence, and to show their support.

Walkers are invited to learn more about the realities of gender-based violence in Saskatchewan while stepping in to their roles as leaders, allies and change-makers.

It takes concrete action to step up against violence: that is why you are invited to show your support, challenge yourself, and challenge your community, to have difficult conversations about domestic violence and speak out against cultures of violence.

When you support Walk A Mile In Their Shoes, you are helping raise vital funds that make it possible for us to challenge violence and create safety and hope for survivors.
